

Journal - Office of Legislative Counsel
Monday - 21 August 1967

Page 3

25X1 10. [] JSW) Spoke to Senator Milton Young about S.1035, and the views of Senators Jackson and Dirksen that better tactics would be to hold this off the floor for a while. He agreed that this seemed sensible and specifically stated that he would talk with Dirksen about this since they are both members of the Republican Policy Committee.

25X1 11. [] JSW) Talked with Senator Henry M. Jackson about the letter of 16 August from Senator Thurmond. He indicated that this was a difficult situation suggesting possibly the best approach would be to respond in a way that would be classified in a letter with the added possibility of a senior official of the Agency handcarrying it to discuss with the Senator.

Talked to Senator Jackson about S.1035 requesting his advice as to talking to someone on the Democratic Policy Committee. In view of Senator Russell's illness, Senator Jackson suggested that the matter be discussed with Senator Symington. It was agreed that we both would talk to Senator Symington on this.

25X1 12. [] JSW) Talked with Mr. William Darden, Senate Armed Services Committee staff, about the letter from Senator Thurmond dated 16 August. While he had no precise formula for handling he leaned to a solution of oral briefing by a senior official.

I also delivered to Mr. Darden a copy of the NEW YORK TIMES article of 20 August on Russian tests on re-entry of weapons from space. He recalled briefings pertaining to this and seemed to understand the general situation.

25X1 13. [] JSW) Delivered to Mr. Robert Michaels, House Appropriations Committee staff, a copy of the NEW YORK TIMES article of 20 August on Russian tests on re-entry of weapons from space. He recalled briefings pertaining to this and seemed to understand the general situation.

Also delivered to Mr. Michaels a suggested draft letter from the Chairman to the Comptroller General on the problem dealing with our disposition of financial records. Left with him for study also was the proposed letter from the Director to the Comptroller General.